

DISKUT

Cookies, Breads & more

The flavours that take you home.
This Diwali, gift them.

Why choose Biskut?

Diwali is about the small things that feel familiar — and nothing does that quite like the right cookie. Scaling that feeling to hundreds of recipients is where things usually get complicated. We simplify it: vegetarian, bite-sized cookies rooted in nostalgic, homely flavours, tasted by you first, priced to fit your budget, and delivered pan-India. The gesture is yours. The execution is ours.

In the 1970s, long before artisanal baking became a movement, my mother in Mumbai was perfecting her craft in the quietest, most honest way possible, by baking for the people she loved. Her kitchen became a gathering place, her recipes a language of care passed down to us.

For decades, these recipes remained a cherished family secret, served only at our own dining tables. But in 2017, my sister and I asked ourselves: what if everyone could taste what made their childhood so sweet?

Biskut was founded in Ahmedabad to honor that legacy and memory, bringing the same honesty, skill, and joy from our family's kitchen to discerning tables everywhere.

We remain fiercely independent and intentionally small. Every product we create honors our mother's original standards: premium ingredients, traditional techniques, and the kind of attention to detail that cannot be rushed or replicated at scale. This baking is true luxury that lies not in embellishment, but in absolute excellence of the essentials.

Biskut is homegrown in the truest sense, born from genuine passion, nurtured by family tradition, and committed to a standard that has never wavered.

We are Biskut: A family-run bakery for all families
